

10:30am-11:00am: Michael Fedderke (Hopkins)

Title: Asteroids for gravitational-wave and dark-matter detection

Abstract: I'll discuss some recent work proposing to use asteroids as test masses for a microHz gravitational wave detection scheme, and ways one could repurpose such a detector to look for either supermassive or ultralight dark matter.