

Speaker: Juan Maldacena

Title: Scaling similarities in large N quantum mechanical systems

Abstract: We describe supersymmetric SYK models which display a scaling similarity at low temperatures, rather than the usual conformal behavior. We discuss the large N equations. We also present a picture for the physics of the model which suggest that the relevant low energy degrees of freedom are almost free.