PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:

This concert by Long Island Chamber Music for flute, french horn, and piano invites listeners into worlds shaped by sound and imagination. Mel Bonis's Scènes de la Forêt paints a poetic vision of the forest—not as it is, but as it might be dreamed: mysterious, lyrical, and full of quiet wonder. Eric Ewazen's Trio for Flute, Horn, and Piano creates an entirely different imaginative space, where bold melodies and shimmering textures conjure scenes that feel both cinematic and deeply personal. Bridging these landscapes is Donizetti's Sonata in C minor, a work of elegance and drama that invites the performer—and the listener—to step into a world of operatic intensity and expressive nuance. Together, these pieces celebrate the power of music to evoke scenes not seen, but felt—unfolding in the mind's eye through sound.
