

We'll discuss connections between the dimer model and representation theory of SL_n and other Lie groups. The basic result is a generalization of Kasteleyn's theorem (which counts dimer covers of planar graphs using the Pfaffian of an adjacency-type matrix), to the setting of a graph with a matrix-valued connection on edges.